Biography of the late

SUSANNA OSAFO TAKYI

Then I heard a voice from heaven saying, "Write this: Happy are those who from now on die in the service of the Lord!" "Yes indeed" answers the spirit. They will enjoy rest from their hard work, because the result of their service go with them. Rev. 14:13

Susanna Osafo Takyi, affectionately referred to as "Shoe," graced this world on May 17, 1985, in Suhum. She was the third of seven siblings born to her parents, the late Mr. Isaac Nartey Brown and Madam Cecilia Anyatsor. Her life journey commenced with her early education in Asaman, and she completed her junior high school at Pokuase APC, lovingly guided by her Aunt Janet.

After her junior high school education, Susanna pursued her academic aspirations at St. John's Grammar Senior High School in Achimota. She continued her educational journey at Meridian Pre-University, and later she ventured into the realm of higher education. During this period, she resided in Lapas Nii Boye Town alongside her dear friend, Aunt Esther, while also dedicating herself to studies at IPMC.

Following her educational pursuits, Susanna embarked on her professional career at Somoco Ghana Limited. Her work ethic and dedication were remarkable, setting a high standard in her field.

Susanna's faith was an integral part of her identity. She was an active and devoted member of her church community, dedicating her time and energy to serving others.

Susanna Osafo Takyi's commitment to her family was a testament to her character. She found love and companionship with Daniel Donkor, with whom she married on 13, June 2015. Their journey led them to Christian Village, where they began building a family. In time, they were blessed with two beautiful children, Goergget and Giannes, and they eventually moved to Pokuase Oshuman to build their family together.

Unfortunately, Susanna's life was cut short when illness struck. While she hoped for recovery, it was in God's divine plan that she would leave this world on August 6, 2023, at Legon Hospital. Her departure brought sadness, but there is comfort in the knowledge that she lived a life devoted to the Lord and filled with love and compassion.

In the end, Susanna Osafo Takyi will be remembered for more than her achievements; she will be celebrated for her extraordinary capacity for caring, her deep faith, her commitment to her work, and the love she shared with all those who had the privilege of knowing her. May Susanna Osafo Takyi rest in eternal peace.

by Husband: Daniel Donkor

As I stand before you today, my heart heavy with grief yet filled with love, I want to pay tribute to my beloved wife, Nina, or as I lovingly call her. She was not just my partner in life, but my anchor, my confidante, and the love of my life.

Nina, your presence in my life was a blessing beyond measure. You brought warmth, laughter, and a profound sense of purpose into my world. From the moment we met, I knew I had found someone truly special. Our love story was a journey filled with joy, challenges and a bond that grew stronger with each passing day.

In sickness and in health, we walked hand in hand, facing life's trials together. Nina's strength and resilience during her illness were awe-inspiring. She bore her pain with grace and unwavering courage, and through it all, her love for our beautiful children, Goergget and Giannes, and me, never wavered.

Nina, you were not just the love of my life; you were the heart and soul of our family. Your love and care knew no bounds, and your legacy of love will continue to live on in our hearts. Your memory will forever be a guiding light for me and our children.

As I bid you farewell today, I want you to know that your love and the moments we shared will forever be etched in my heart. Your absence leaves a void that can never be filled, but I take solace in the cherished memories we created together.

You may have left this world, my dear Nina, but your love and spirit will always be with us. Rest in eternal peace, knowing that you are loved beyond measure, and your memory will continue to inspire and comfort us.

Until we meet again, my love.

We may be just kids, but we want the whole world to know how much we love and miss you. You were the best mom ever, and even though you're not here with us anymore, your love and memories fill our hearts.

Mom, you taught us so many important things. You taught us to be kind, to share, and to always help others. We miss your comforting presence, especially when we're scared or sick. You knew just how to make us feel better.

Even though you're not here, we can still feel your love all around us. It's like a warm, cozy blanket that keeps us safe and loved. We know you're watching over us from heaven, and that makes us smile.

We promise to remember all the things you taught us and to be the best kids we can be. We'll make you proud, Mom, just like you always made us proud. We'll keep your love in our hearts forever.

It is with great sorrow in our hearts that we gather here today to bid a final farewell to our beloved colleague, Sussan, as we fondly called her. Having worked alongside her for these past years has been an absolute joy and a source of immense learning. She possessed an unwavering strength of character and an infectious energy that radiated from within.

Sussan had a remarkable ability to uplift and inspire those around her, always striving to bring out the best in everyone and everything. Little did we anticipate that this day would come, when we would no longer have the privilege of seeing our cherished colleague.

We pray that our Heavenly Father will embrace her in His loving arms until we meet again. Rest in peace, dear Sussan. You will forever hold a special place in our hearts.

Call of Hope International Church

Romans 14:8, For whether we live, we live unto the Lord and whether we die, we die unto the Lord...

Mrs. Susanna Donkor, of whom we have gathered here today, to bid a final farewell, joined the church in 2009 as a member and rose to the position of a deputy secretary, and became the main secretary in 2017 following the relocation of the former. Aunty Suzy as affectionately called by the church, died while active in service. During our last encounter, we were hopeful that our next meeting will be an All-White event praising God for His healing but...hmmm!!

We can't say we failed as a church because God loves you more than we do and has done what is right in his sight. He has saved you from the evil ahead, Isaiah 57:1. We prayed, fasted, we hoped, we believed and you countlessly sympathized with your confidant (the set man of the house), Rev. George Nyamekye as you affectionately called him about his health even in your weakness.

We all are unable to process what has befallen us, as a church, but what about your best friend, Rev. George Nyamekye, whom you taught to relax because you got his back, from the church documentation to all works and processes he should have done.

Aunty Suzy, you singly handled all these and now that you are no more with us, who takes over, who completes what you couldn't finish, who should Rev. George consult and how he continues from where you stopped? Eeeii! Aunty Suzy, you have left a huge vacuum and it will take us yet another period to groom your replacement.

Aunty Suzy, was a dedicated member, who served the Lord with her best skills, and passion and we are best having you as a church. She was very committed, compassionate, ever ready to speak of the sense of privilege and responsibility she felt for being part of this family and her desire to see the advancement of the kingdom work. Indeed, we have lost a beautiful soul who served God with her time and resources!

You will be greatly missed, especially during all church activities that directly involved you, your soothing voice during announcement and interpretation, "Beloved" as you addressed the church. The entire Call of Hope family pays tribute to this good and faithful servant of God and the church as we say a final goodbye. We pray that the faith by which Suzy lived and causes of goodwill she defended, will live on the lives and action of those she influenced during her lifetime.

Rest In Aunty Suzy.

A sister makes your life complete no matter where she is. We may not have our sister here but we will always have each other in heart. Our sister was the spot of our treasured hearts. Now it will be lost to all.

You always got what you wanted from your hardworking. You are a supportive sister, an inspiration and endearment to our lives.

Some says you are very difficult to leave with because you are very discipline. Your YES is always YES and NO always NO. Even though you have your needs and responsibilities you find a way to provide for us all. Indeed, good people do not live for long. Ensuring we all have education was your priority. Our welfare was indeed your concern. A mother and a sister by all standards.

We are thankful to God for giving us someone like you. You left while there was still milestone to crush. You filled us with much sorrow yet we are grateful for so much. You make good time unforgettable. Side by side or torn apart, you will always be connected in our hearts.

Spirit to spirit, hearts to hearts, sister forever together and apart.

A loyal sister is worth a thousand friends.
Rest well Sister Suzy.

The Abalo Family

In loving memory of Suzy, a big sister we never had. She was not only a sister but also a best friend. Our favorite spot in her home was the kitchen, where we had all our discussions, sharing laughter and stories. Whenever she'd ask me to come home for the weekend, and I inquired, 'What's new?' She'd respond with a smile, 'Jollof and salad.' These simple yet special moments were a testament to her sense of humor and the warmth she brought to our relationship. Even when I spent days without visiting, she'd call and playfully tease me as her prodigal sister.

Suzy had a disciplinarian side, but somehow, We always managed to stay on her good side. Her guidance and the balance of love and discipline she offered shaped me in profound ways.

Another vacation was on the horizon, and Sarah, eagerly awaited your arrival to pick her up. The joy and anticipation of these reunions were something truly special.

Suzy's love, warmth, and unwavering support have left an indelible mark on our life. We will forever cherish the bond we shared and the memories we created together.

St. John's Grammar School old students (JOSA)

*"And I heard a voice from heaven saying, write this: blessed are the dead who died in the Lord from now on. Blessed indeed, "says the spirit, that they may rest from their labors, for their deeds follow them"
Indeed, we believe you died in the Lord and resting from your labors.*

Revelation 14:13

We are gathered here today to say a final goodbye to the mortal remains of our dear classmate Sussana. Suzzy, as we affectionately called her was not only our biggest cheerleader during our days in St. John's Grammar School Achimota, 2004-2007 batch, but she was also a great entertainer in the Home Economics, Clothing and Textiles class.

Suzzy has contributed a lot to almost every activity in our class and she executed her duties successfully to the admiration of all her mates. She was always concerned about the welfare of all her mates and in reciprocity, we her mates also saw her as a mother to us since she was one of the oldest student in our class. Suzzy, you lived in the moment and held no grudges. You had a 'say it and forget attitude' and approached life as such.

We do remember back in SSS how Suzzy would shout in class "announcement announcement everyone keep quiet " and when the class was quite she would say " I'm about to sleep and no one should disturb" Suzzy, today the class is quite not because we want you to sleep but rather rest in the bosom of the Almighty God.

Suzzy, our hearts are filled with sadness and sorrow for this impromptu goodbye, but we will be minded by this quote of Henry James: "Sorrow comes in great waves, but it rolls over us and though it may almost smother us, it passes and we remain".

May your soul Rest In Peace

We want to express our heartfelt gratitude for the love and support you have shown us during this difficult time. Your presence at the funeral service and the kind words and gestures of comfort have provided us with strength and solace.
